

No like-for-like solutions

Everything I do is geared to the individual.

Hello...

I'm Nick Clarke and I specialise in providing health insurance and protection products for individuals and businesses.

As an independent, I work with all providers in the healthcare and protection market to find you the best possible options available.

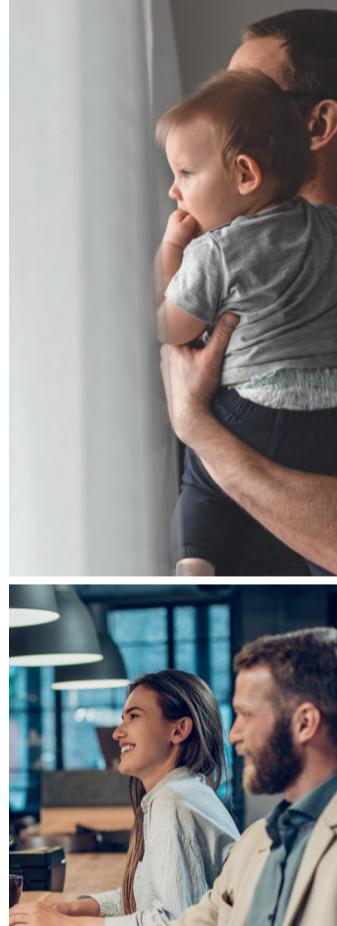

I feel my role is to inform people, not through formal presentation or brochures but by asking questions about personal and business circumstances and finding the most appropriate solution. I then gather information, advise you and ensure that you are in a position to make an informed decision.

Since 2006, I have built a wealth of experience in the private healthcare and protection market and have worked directly with Standard Life Healthcare, AXA Health, Health-on-Line and The Permanent Health Company.

My approach is relaxed, putting your needs at the heart of my business and would welcome the opportunity to work with you.

“...his technical knowledge is excellent and I'd recommend Nick to anyone looking for good advice”

Jon Darby – Managing Director, Securehealth Ltd
